

Far Away and Long Ago – A History of My Early Life
William Henry Hudson

A boy (between the ages of 4 and 12) discovers the natural world around him in his home in the Argentine Pampas and in Buenos Aires. Author Hudson is best known for Green Mansions but is considered by Argentine readers as one of their own, for his “Far and Away...” and many other works highlighting South America. As a budding naturalist, Hudson was given total freedom to discover the wonders of his world. Earnest Hemingway reportedly admired Hudson’s works and even named a character in one of his books after him. This work is filled with discoveries and memorable characters, vividly portrayed. - Summary by John Greenman

Read by John Greenman. 24 Tracks. Total Duration: 10:28:10

This recording is in the public domain and may be reproduced, distributed, or modified without permission. For more information or to volunteer, visit librivox.org.

Cover image: “Gaucho” by José María Pérez Nuñez on flickr.com. Portrait from Wikimedia Commons. Copyright expired in U.S., Canada, EU, and all countries with author’s life +70 yrs laws. Cover design by TriciaG. This design is in the public domain in the U.S.

Far Away and Long Ago – William Henry Hudson

Far Away and Long Ago – William Henry Hudson